

Inkjet? Is it good enough?

Large format inkjet printing of the kind used at EcoVisual is a far cry from typical desktop printing and better for the environment than offset printing. The quality is extraordinarily high through the use of up to 12 different ink positions. The high-end inks used emit no volatile organic compounds (VOCs). Most of the papers we use are environmentally friendly, from natural resources and long lasting. Sourcing locally eliminates the energy waste and CO2 emissions involved in importing or transporting papers.
